Property description:
Our fully furnished cozy home, ideally located halfway between Harvard and MIT is one of the few single-family homes in a quiet mid-Cambridge neighborhood of 19th century houses. It's set back from the street in the middle of the block, affording a sense of quiet and privacy rare to the city. Across the street is a dog and kid friendly park/playground, and we’re close to both Inman and Central Squares. It's a short walk to the Red Line subway, buses, Harvard shuttle stops, grocery stores, shops, cafes, pubs, restaurants and live entertainment; and it’s only a quick drive to downtown Boston or access to interstates 90 & 93.

The shady backyard features a red brick patio with furnishings and grill for relaxation, play and al fresco dining. The front porch opens to another brick patio and a sunny garden of vegetables and flowers, available for the picking. An attractive wooden fence around the property will keep your children and pets safely enclosed. The interior features hardwood floors, handmade rugs, photography, folk art, and original decorative tin ceilings.

The first floor includes a recently updated kitchen and pantry with modern appliances, the rear entry, a half bath, and an open design dining room/living room with an antique upright piano and a wood stove.

Four rooms make up the second floor: a master bedroom, which includes an enclosed sun porch/office area with separate exterior entrance (opening onto to a small deck above the garden); a full bath (with old fashion claw foot tub), a second bedroom with full size futon, and a family/TV room (that can also be used as an extra sleeping space with our air mattress). Up the stairs to the attic floor is a bedroom with a full size bed, skylight and its own 1/2 bath. All bedrooms include window air conditioning units.

There's DSL wireless, AppleTV with free access to Hulu+LiveTV and Netflix accounts, and a washer and dryer in the basement. Kids and pets are welcome.
